

VISTA OF WEDDINGS STRETCHES AHEAD WITHOUT A BREAK

Number of Matches This Season Suggests Many Young Couples Had Been Waiting for War's End and Demobilization--Charitable Affairs Gay and Elaborate

THIS is to be a week of weddings, rivaling Easter week itself in a season notable for weddings, probably because so many young couples were awaiting the end of the war and demobilization. Engagement announcements continue to pour in as fast as ever. Some wedding dates already are fixed for June, and a few for May, which is a little unusual, though why should it be?

Weddings or no, the round of charitable entertainments goes on and on, each event gay and more elaborate than the preceding.

The first appeal of this week is for a concert to be held to-morrow afternoon in the picture gallery of Mrs. Vincent Astor's house, 840 Fifth avenue, under the auspices of the auxiliary committee of the orthopedic ward of the Post-Graduate Hospital. War conditions have caused such a falling off in the annual subscriptions to the department of the hospital that the members of the auxiliary were obliged to ask for public help. In this particular ward there are many children badly in need of assistance aside from that which is offered by surgery. The artists of to-morrow afternoon will be Miss May Peterson, soprano, and Reinold Werrenath, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera house.

Miss Lewis Gouverneur Morris and Miss Ruth King will be in charge of the ushers and program sellers, assisting them will be Mrs. Albert Cotting Schermerhorn, Mrs. Albert Zabriskie Gray, Mrs. Paul Renshaw, Mrs. Charles De Looney Oelrichs, the Misses Adrienne Iselin, Symphora Brasted, Audrey Hoffman, Lillian Endicott, Katharine Lawrence, Marion Tiffany, Lucile Baldwin, Isabel Stettinius, Cornelia Darwin and Louise Harkness.

Among the many patronesses are Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Copley Amory, James T. Terry, Lewis Livingston, Vincent Astor, R. Fulton Cutting, Charles Henry Coster, James Byrne, Andrew Carnegie, Frederick Edey, Henry C. Swords, Hamilton Fish, Edward R. Stettinius, John Worrell Fisher, Lawrence L. Gillespie, Herbert L. Satterlee, Edwin Gould, William L. Harkness, Charles Stewart Smith, James Marshall Hodgman, H. E. Verran, Gustav H. Kinnicutt, Lewis Rutherford Morris, Walter G. Oakman, Henry Scott Rokenbaugh, Alfred Duane Pell and Charles Lawrence Riker.

Tickets at $4 each may be obtained of Mrs. Edward McKivier, 257 Madison avenue, and of Mrs. Arthur Coppell, 32 West Forty-eighth street, and to-morrow afternoon at the door.

In place of the musical comedy by amateurs of society, which for several years has been a feature of the spring season, the managers of the Governor's Neighborhood House, which maintains a children's playground and settlement house at 411 East Fifty-fifth street, have decided to change their programme and there will be given next Friday night in Sherry's main ballroom, a series of the comedy springing ball which will be of much interest to the younger people.

The board of directors of the Settlement includes Miss Caramal Carroll, Mrs. Charles D. Dickey, Jr., Mrs. Charles, Mrs. Charles, Mrs. James Lenox Banks, Jr., Miss Augusta R. Dixon, Miss Juliet Bartlett and Miss Gertrude Mall. They are to have the assistance of a dance committee, at the head of which will be Miss Audrey Riker, with whom will be associated the Misses Voulet Proctor, Frances Riker, Mary Crocker Alexander, Edith Pratt, Lucie Baldwin, Peggy Paris, Sheila Byrne, Cornelia Chapin, Ellen McCarter, Mary Van Rensselaer Lorillard, Katharine T. Emmet, Helen Lee, Margaret Flint, Clara Lee, Marie Lamarche, Louise Harkness, Miriam Harriman, Mary Tudor, Eunice James and Constance Warner, also Misses Sloan Walker, Reginald G. Coombe, R. Roland Storer, Jr., Faber Downey, W. Shippen Davis, Allen E. Foster, John M. Franklin, Harold D. Harvey, George Griswold Haven, Jr., A. Coster Schermerhorn, Sidney P. Henshaw, Alan Harriman, Frederick Edey, Edith Pratt, George H. Iwainne, Jr., Oliver B. Jennings, Nathaniel R. Landon, Henry H. Landon, Jr., Don M. Kelley, Allan S. Locke and G. Francis Lawrence, Jr. The names of these young men have not figured in social doings since the beginning of the many patronesses are:

Among the many patronesses are: Mrs. Philip D. Armour, Walter B. James, Reginald La G. Auchincloss, Walter Jennings, James Byrne, Harry J. Luce, Philip G. Bartlett, Pierre Mall, Walter P. Bliss, George G. Mason, Kurnal R. Habbitt, Henry C. Murray, Jr., Percy Stewart, William C. Overton, Richard C. Colt, William P. Proctor, S. Sloan Colt, Francis U. Ellis, Courtland P. Dixon, W. Walter Phelps, Frederick Edey, Samuel Riker, Edwin Gould, Samuel Sloan, Frank H. Hagaman, Jr., Harley J. Stowell, William L. Harkness, Henry C. Taylor, Columbus O'D. Iselin, Stephen G. Williams and Joseph Walker Jr.

Tickets at $5 each may be obtained of Miss Caroline L. Wyeth, 9 East Seventy-fifth street. The music for dancing will be by Sergeant Michael Markels's Orchestra.

Women of society and the stage are to appear in the comedy, "Mrs. Drummond's War Relief," written by Mrs. Nina Larre Duryea, which will be performed for the first time next Sunday evening in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, and there will be a matinee on May 5. The play is founded on Mrs. Duryea's experiences in relief work in France and the proceeds will be devoted to this work, which yet is being carried on by her. Two of the roles will be played by Miss Ethel Carhart and Miss Emilie Brown, who helped Mrs. Duryea in Lille, and the leading roles will be assumed by Hilda Spang, who will be assisted by Robert Edison, Henry Hull, Olive May, Susanne Westford, Catherine Calhoun, Vincent, Paul Doucet and Barlow Bond.

Mrs. Theodorus Stevens, an amateur, will have an important role, and among other young women of society to appear are Miss Dolly Kimball, Miss Elise Everett, Miss Rosalie Bloodgood, Miss George Bristed, Miss Ethel Potter and Miss Margaret Emmet. Among those who will be seated on the stage during the last scene of the comedy will be Ernest Guy of the French High Commission and Mrs. Guy, Gaston Liebert, the French Consul-General; Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed, Mrs. Mary Hatch Villard, Mrs. E. Reeve Merritt and Mrs. Alfred Norris.

Miss Julie Lenthall will be in charge of the programme, who will include the Misses Geraldine Miller, Graham, Margaret C. Flint, Theodore Tiffany, Dorothea Norris, Betty Jackson, Currie Duke Mathews, Margaret Warren, Genevieve Clendinning, Madeleine Liebert, Charlotte Demore, Nina Ryan, Jeanne Gourd and Anna Alexander.

Among the many patronesses are: Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, Elbert H. Gary, Edward T. Stotesbury, Paul D. Cravath, Daniel C. French, Grenville Kane, Frederic Neilson, J. Fred Pierson, Reginald De Koven, F. Burrall Hoffman, Ethelbert Nevin, Dallas Bachs Pratt, Henry S. Redmond, Frank McLaughlin, W. Miller Graham, George F. Baker, Jr., and Moses Taylor Campbell, Miss Luella Leland and Miss Louise Ward McAllister.

Tickets and boxes may be obtained of Mrs. Raymond Belmont, 9 East Thirtieth street.

MISS KATHARINE L. FULTON
© BY BACHRACH

already have been secured by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. Mortimer Schiff, Mrs. F. Burrall Hoffman, Mrs. Oscar Cooper, Walter J. Salmon, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Clarence H. Hayden, Mrs. Charles Mather MacNeill and many others. Among those who are acting with Mrs. Vanderbilt are: Mrs. Vincent Astor, Robert Kahn, Newbold Le Roy Edgar, Frederick Lewisohn, Willard Parker, Charles H. Sabin, Ralph Pulitzer, William Jay Schieffelin, Henry J. Whigham, Norman D. Whitehouse, James A. Burden and John D. Ryan.

As usual at such entertainments there will be a number of young women to sell souvenirs, and these will include many of those whose names have been mentioned so frequently in the social affairs. Mrs. Vanderbilt is asking all the women who will attend the ball to wear blue evening gowns, the collar to be topped with blue or white wings. Tickets, boxes and tables for supper may be obtained at the headquarters of the association, 631 Fifth avenue, also at booths in the Ritz-Carlton and Vanderbilt.

It is expected that the British Ambassador and Lady Reading will be the guests of honor at the spring ball, which will be held at the Ritz-Carlton on Tuesday night, and on Thursday night they will be the guests of Mrs. Burke Roche. In addition to Mrs. Roche the members of the committee are: Mrs. William Jay, Mrs. Courtland P. Barnes, Mrs. Philip Allen Clark, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. James Speyer, Mrs. Edwin Gould, Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, Mrs. S. Harold Freeman, Mrs. Gordon Macdonald, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Samuel J. Tilden, Mrs. Edward M. Weiss, Mrs. William Douglas, Mrs. Dudley O'Connell and Mrs. John Sloan.

Members of the North Carolina Society of this city will give a reception and supper dance Tuesday night in one of the suites of the Waldorf-Astoria. Among the members of the committee are: Mrs. George Baskerville, Charles Baskerville, George Gordon Battle, H. L. Horden, Henry C. Cowles, Ralph H. Graves, George H. Mallett, Albert B. Massey, Frank C. McMane, James W. Osborn, James Parker, John S. Primrose, William B. Pritchard and R. E. Reeves.

Miss Ray Slater, daughter of Mrs. Horatio Nelson Slater of Boston, will be married to Dr. James B. Murphy of the Rockefeller Institute at noon to-morrow at 270 Park avenue, where she has been for the winter with her mother. The Rev. Dr. Samuel S. Drury of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., will perform the marriage ceremony. The bride will be given away by her brother, Horatio Nelson Slater, who returned recently from France, where he served as a lieutenant in the United States Army. Her only attendant will be Miss Adrienne M. Iselin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus O'Donnell Iselin of this city. Dr. A. P. D. Massey, of the Rockefeller Institute will act as best man. The ushers will include Dr. George Draper, Dr. Walter M. Palmer, Dr. Francis Peabody and Major Russell L. Cecil, U. S. A. A wedding breakfast will follow.

Miss Ray Slater, daughter of Mrs. Horatio Nelson Slater of Boston, will be married to Dr. James B. Murphy of the Rockefeller Institute at noon to-morrow at 270 Park avenue, where she has been for the winter with her mother. The Rev. Dr. Samuel S. Drury of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., will perform the marriage ceremony. The bride will be given away by her brother, Horatio Nelson Slater, who returned recently from France, where he served as a lieutenant in the United States Army. Her only attendant will be Miss Adrienne M. Iselin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus O'Donnell Iselin of this city. Dr. A. P. D. Massey, of the Rockefeller Institute will act as best man. The ushers will include Dr. George Draper, Dr. Walter M. Palmer, Dr. Francis Peabody and Major Russell L. Cecil, U. S. A. A wedding breakfast will follow.

In St. Thomas's Church to-morrow afternoon Miss Dorothy S. Renard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Renard, will be married to Lieut. Henry Rogers Benjamin, Aviation Section, U. S. N., a grandson of the late Henry H. Rogers. The bride's attendants will be Mrs. Charles Edward Adams, Miss Edith S. Beavor Webb and Miss Dorothy Battie, Cynthia Pratt, a niece of the bridegroom, and Natalie Coe, his cousin, will act as bridesmaid.

Dr. R. C. Smiley of this city, a member of the New York State Motor Corps, for which Miss Jaeger has driven an ambulance, gave on Thursday a dinner, followed by a theatre party for Miss Jaeger and her sister.

Miss Beatrice Edythe Nachmann, daughter of the New York Motor Corps, for which Miss Jaeger has driven an ambulance, gave on Thursday a dinner, followed by a theatre party for Miss Jaeger and her sister.

In St. Bartholomew's Church on Wednesday afternoon Miss Elizabeth the chapel. Miss Field has chosen for her bride attendants Mrs. Theodore Frothingham, Jr. and Mrs. William Augustus Read, Jr., sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Mary Osgood Field, a cousin of the bride; the Misses Lucile Baldwin, Polly Damosch, Minnie Richards, Mary Colt and Katherine Cunnock Blodgett. John Mitchell of Boston will act as best man. The ushers will be Augustus B. Field, Jr., brother of the bride; John J. Emery and William A. Read, Jr., of this city; Francis W. Pabyn, Jr., brother of the bridegroom; Russell S. Codman, Francis W. Hatch, Lloyd B. Means, H. David Bleslow, Robert G. Payne, John L. Merrill, Daniel A. Freeman, W. John Caner and Malcolm Thomas, all of Boston.

Mr. Pabyn gave his farewell bachelor dinner Friday night in Boston and last evening Miss Field entertained her bride attendants at dinner at the home of her parents, 108 East Thirty-fifth street. The Rev. William Lawrence Wood will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry Wilmerding Payne, 14 West Thirty-sixth street.

Miss Carolyn B. Knapp, daughter of Miss Louise Jenkins, Miss Hazel Rogers, Miss Dorothy Miller and Miss Margaret Moyer of this city and Miss Marjorie Bend of Washington, wore orchid colored gowns.

Lieut. Donald A. Green, U. S. N., was best man, and the ushers were Lieuts. William Sperlock, John Orrin Wood, Stanley Jupp, Albert Biedose, Joseph H. Brady and Donald W. Loomis, all of the United States Navy. Lieut. Rowe was attached to the destroyer Robinson and returned several months ago from overseas service. He is now attached to the destroyer Chauncey. He and his bride will spend their honeymoon in California.

Miss Malvina Weiss, daughter of Mrs. Betty Weiss of 365 West 115th street, will be married on Tuesday evening to Lucian Freud, son of Mrs. Rosa Freud of 553 West 144th street, at the Hotel Astor. Miss Weiss will be attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles F. Kinsman, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Lillian Weiss, another sister, and Miss Ruth Goldberg. Little Miss Celine Gropper will be the flower girl. Benedict Freud, brother of the bridegroom, will act as best man. The Rev. S. Kleinfeld, U. S. A., will officiate. The bride will be given away by her brother, Ben Weiss.

A reception, dinner and dance at the Hotel Astor will follow the ceremony, and the young couple will pass their honeymoon at White Sulphur Springs, N. J. They will make their future home in this city.

Another interesting wedding Monday was that of Miss Martha K. Lawton, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Albert J. Lawton, of 2941 Fifth avenue, to P. W. Hayden and Aver of Camden, N. J., president of N. Y. Ayer & Son of Philadelphia. The bride's father officiated. The Rev. Dr. Lawson, now retired, was at one time pastor of the North Baptist Church of Camden, where Mr. Ayer is president of the church board.

Miss Beatrice Woerz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Woerz, was married Wednesday afternoon at their home, 417 Park avenue, to Lester Andrew Hamilton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William M. Horn of Ithaca, N. Y. The bride, who was given away by her father, was crowned in white satin embroidered with red pearls. Orange blossoms fastened her tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marian J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 1908 from the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The marriage of Miss Marion J. Gadd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gadd of 150 West 104th street, to E. Van De Water was followed by a reception and dance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Royce Marvin, whose gown was of peach colored satin and chiffon. Mrs. Marvin wore a hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was John C. Conk of Pittsburg. The wedding was followed by a reception. Mr. Hamilton, who is a son of the late Andrew T. Hamilton of White Plains, was discharged from active duty recently at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He was graduated in 190